

removed from Doves Lake, Monday.

F. G. Lewis sustained a severe sprain to his right ankle last Thursday evening. He was on his way, horseback, to bring home the cattle, when the horse stumbled and fell with Fred's leg pinned underneath. It was thought some bones were broken but an examination revealed that such was not the case. At any rate the injury is a painful one and will lay Mr. Lewis up for some time.

In episode six of "The Timber