

Hannaford Enterprise: Carl and Henry Oien have now taken over the hardware business of Aarestad Bros. & Troseth, the new firm being known as the Hannaford Hardware Co. The deal was negotiated last fall, but it was not until a few days ago, that the new owners were ready to take possession. G. M. and E. J. Aarestad have been here since the first part of January taking inventory of the stock, and closing up as far as possible their affairs. They left Saturday for their homes in Minneapo-
