

for you.

J. F. T. O'Connor spoke to a large crowd at Red Willow lake last Sunday. The attendance was large in spite of the inclement weather which kept many from attending. Mr. O'Connor's address was free from politics and was given in that highly entertaining way so peculiar to him. He spoke on the building of a government and used some practical illustrations to emphasize the points brought out. His remarks on other matters were injected with much humor and thoroughly enjoyed.

A peculiar accident happened in
