The corn roast party held at Red Willow lake last Wednesday evening was a very enjoyable affair. A large bon-fire was built over which many cobs were roasted nice and brown. Later, the ladies served a lunch consisting of coffee, sandwiches and corn that had been boiled on the cob. The program following the lunch hour included songs by the choir, trios by the Misses Florence Greenland, Margaret Ristad and Evelyn Alfeon, a solo by Miss Greenland, and two bass solos by L. P. Larson, who also gave a brief talk to the large crowd assembled around the pavilion. The local orchestra then played a few numbers and those who cared to, enjoyed themselves by dancing.
