The dance held at the Red Willow Lake pavilion last Friday evening was well attended as usual. The floor is nice and smooth, the music good, and when the weather man is on the job with the right brand of weather, no one can wish for a more ideal place to dance. Red Willow lake is becoming more and more popular every day. People flock in from far and near during the week to enjoy the fine bathing, boating and fishing. Another dance will be given Friday evening this week. We understand that extra music will be added to the orchestra.
