

Directors of the Red Willow Lake Park association met last Friday afternoon and made preparations that will probably mean the completion of the pavilion during the coming season. It was decided that work will be started on the foundation as soon as the ground permits. If conditions appear favorable later, work on the building will go on, or at least the floor. Notices for bids have been placed in newspapers calling for proposals to grant concessions at the lake. These bids are to be in by April 8th, and it is regarded as certain that from that time on rapid progress will be made.
