

Masons and Shriners Invite the Public to Their Monster Party at Popular Lake Resort Next Sunday--The Pote Himself Will be There-- Prof. Arvold Will Speak---Band, Music and Sports Galore.

DELEGATIONS FROM ALL BLUE LODGES WILL BE PRESENT

The Shriners and Masonic joint picnic at Red Willow lake, next Sunday, to which the public is invited, promises to eclipse anything so far held at that place.

Potentate T. I. Lewis, of El Zagal Temple, Fargo, is co-operating with local committees to arrange a very interesting program, and unless unfavorable weather interferes, it will be worth going miles to attend. Potentate Lewis has prevailed upon Prof. A. G. Arvold, of the Agricultural college, to deliver an address on the subject of "Educational Instruction for North Dakota." Prof. Arvold is one of the state's best orators, and his address will contain a valuable lesson. Potentate Lewis has consented to give a short talk on "The Shrine." Mr. Lewis does not claim any oratorical ability, but his brother lodge members, who have had an opportunity of hearing him on various occasions, assert that he has a vein of humor peculiar to a mighty good fellow like "T. I."

In addition to the two addresses by Mr. Arvold and Mr. Lewis, it is possible that El Zagal Temple will furnish extra attraction in the form of music, although this cannot be definitely stated.

Noble J. O. Forberg, director of the Aneta band, in a telephone conversation with The Times yesterday, stated that he would try to bring his band along. A large delegation of Aneta people expect to spend the day at the lake.

The scheduled baseball game between McHenry and Binford, which was to have been played at McHenry on Sunday, has been transferred to Red Willow.

While this picnic is being promoted by Masons and Shriners, it is by no means exclusive for these members. The general public is invited to attend, and, contrary to rumors that persist in being spread whenever an event is advertised for Red Willow lake, there will be no charge made for entrance to the grounds.

You may bring your own lunch, or, if you prefer, the restaurant on the grounds can provide you with things to eat. And the same is true with ice cream, soft drinks, confectionery, cigars and tobacco, pop corn, bathing suits, etc. These concessions are placed there for the convenience of those who wish to patronize them, and as an attraction to Red Willow. We mention this in order to stop the spreading of false rumors regarding admission charges to the lake grounds. You are invited to Red Willow. Come Sunday and spend all day.

Potentate Lewis orders: "Shriners. Wear your Fea."
