

A. D. Shaw Sells Hub Restaurant

The Hub restaurant, owned by A. D. Shaw, was sold last week to Matt Berge, of Fargo, possession to be taken June 1.

The new proprietor has been connected with the Viking hotel at Fargo for eight years, and is well known to many people hereabouts, who have made that hotel their stopping place when in Fargo. His acquaintances here speak highly of him as a business man and a caterer to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have conducted the restaurant for the most part of 14 years, and have built up an excellent patronage. The Hub has gained an enviable reputation among the eating places of eastern North Dakota, and it is common among the traveling public to speak a good word for Shaw's. The continual grind has impaired Mr. Shaw's health to such an extent that it became necessary for him to dispose of his property.

The restaurant has been a big asset to Binford's business houses, under the Shaw management, and with the experience possessed by the new owner it is believed the same high standard will be maintained.

Mr. Berge is a married man and will bring his family to Binford as soon as suitable living quarters can be obtained.
