

SIMPSON FAMILY HAVE LEFT McVILLE FOR FARGO

Journal: C. H. Simpson and family have moved to Fargo where they will make their future home. Their household goods were shipped out last Saturday and the family left Sunday by auto for Northwood, where they will visit for a few days awaiting the arrival of their goods at their new home.

We dislike very much to see the Simpson family leave as they have been with us ever since the town started in the year of 1906. Mr. Simpson has always taken an active part in the civic welfare and public improvements and has been a continuous booster for McVillage. Coming to town as cashier of the First State Bank at the time it was organized and the steady growth of the institution has kept pace with our city until at the present time it is the First National Bank of which institution he is now president.

In 1918 he became interested in the life insurance business and in the spring of 1919 he secured the State Agency for the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Paul and has maintained the state office in the First National bank building ever since. This agency has experienced a steady growth and Mr. Simpson found it necessary to look for a more central location in which to take care of the rapidly increasing business. The office will be left at its present location until Mr. Simpson gets his family located and secures suitable quarters in Fargo.

He has not allowed his entire time to be taken up in the business world. He has been a conscientious and steady worker in the church and the Sunday School and for a number of years was superintendent of the local Presbyterian Sunday School and president of the North Dakota State Sunday School Association, as well as taking an active part in county associations, etc.

Mrs. Simpson, as well, took her part in the ladies aid and other women's organizations and was always ready to lend a helping hand when called upon to do anything for the betterment of the town and community.

What is our loss is Fargo's gain and we trust that the entire family will meet with continued success in their new home.

They still have their beautiful residence in this city and we trust that this may prove to be enough attraction to bring them back to this locality again.
