
Sletten Gets $200 and 90 Days Fine

Julius Sletten, of Jessie, who was arrested last week by Sheriff Nelson, on the charge of violating the prohibition law, plead guilty before Judge Englert at Valley City, last Friday, and was fined $200.00 and 90 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended because of his wife's illness.

The stills found in the Sletten home were of an unusually efficient character. The plant had a capacity for the production of about a quart an hour. Three gallons of alcohol were found on hand and taken as evidence.
