

Sons of Norway Planning Big Picnic at Red Willow in June

LIFE A PECULIAR PROPOSITION

If you are one of the world's workers it is useless to ask the question if you have not at the close of a day full of work and worry experienced the conflicting thoughts chasing each other rapidly through your tired brain as to why and what this continual grind is all about, anyway?

You have asked yourself many questions about this peculiar proposition of life, and no doubt dropped off to sleep with the problem unsettled—as we have many times—and awakened in the morning after slumber and rest had entirely banished the unpleasant thoughts, eager to begin the grind again with renewed energy and efforts.

Why do we work and worry and slave from day to day and year to year throughout our short stay on this earth, and perhaps shorten by far the allotted number of

The Sons of Norway lodges of Cooperstown, Binford, Finley, Pekin and Petersburg have decided to hold a joint picnic at Red Willow lake on Sunday, June 10.

The program will commence at 10:30 with music by the Cooperstown and Pekin bands.

T. O. Gilbert, supreme president of the Sons of Norway, has been secured for the principal address of the day, and there will be other speakers, and singing by male choruses and mixed choirs.

Indoor and other ball games are being arranged for, and boating and fishing is at your beck and call.

No charges will be made into the grounds, but a collection will be taken on the grounds to defray expenses.

This picnic is not for members only. Everybody is welcome.
