

James Strand, of Jessie, suffered a broken arm as a result of an auto accident last Sunday. He, in company with two others, were on their way out hunting, and when a few miles west of Jessie, one of the front wheels broke completely off, throwing the occupants out of the car. Mr. Strand was the only one who suffered any injury of any account.

A. D. Shaw and J. L. Moore entered