
A BASEBALL MEETING

Sutton Reporter: A baseball meeting was held Tuesday night in the opera house and a program for this season was outlined. As there is quite a large deficit from last year, it was decided to have a team this year with as few salaried players as possible so this debt could be cleaned up and the usual amount of amusement be provided at the same time. An entirely new organization seems to be the idea, and a proposition has been made to Milo Kingsley to pitch, and we understand M. E. Goff, who was here last year, may return to catch for the team. The management will be in the hands of a board of three, composed of Dr. Lewis, A. B. Sackett and A. J. Melgard, who have had a subscription started to provide funds for paying expenses. They were very successful, something over $500 being subscribed at present.
