

attorney in that state.

Ed Thorn was confined to his home for a few days last week as a result of a rather exciting experience with one of his purebred Holstein bulls. When Ed went into the box stall to do some work, His Majesty didn't take very kindly to the intrusion and proceeded to give vent to his feelings in such a manner that Ed was knocked down and tramped on and otherwise bruised up. Mr. Thorn succeeded in getting away from him without more serious injury and henceforth Mr. Bull will not be given as much liberty as he formerly enjoyed.

Information has been received