

road supervisors.

E. Wold is nursing a badly discolored eye as a result of a collision with an auto crank. In cranking his car, the motor started before he became aware of it and threw the crank into his face with terrific force, breaking his glasses and cutting a gash below his right eye. Fortunately no glass entered the eye or it is very probable that he might have been blinded.

---