

The building of the First State Bank building was begun Saturday morning. The first steps are the building of the walls to the basement which will also form the foundation