Walter McRae Loses Two of His Best Horses Last Friday Evening.

On last Friday April 20, between the hours of 8 and 9 in the evening party or parties entered the stable of Walter McRae, a farmer living 3 miles west of town in Canada and stole 2 of his best horses—Mr. McRae not being home at the time did not discover that they were gone until he entered the house when he found a note upon the table saying that they had taken the horses, but not because they wanted to keep them, but just because they needed them, and that he could get his horses at Alameda a point in Canada, they stated that they were the parties who done the bank robbing at Crosby and that they were in a hurry.

Mr. McRae has until this time not found any trace of his horses and he will be put back very much with his spring work on account of being relieved of two of the best horses he owned.—Portal International.
