

A kerosene-stove exploded at the home of G. Woodwick at McHenry last Saturday evening with fatal results, Mrs. Woodwick and daughter were so badly burned that they died a few hours later. The force of the explosion was so great that it shook buildings a block away. Physicians in neighboring towns were immediately summoned, but nothing could be done. The family have the sympathy of their many friends in their hour of affliction.