

DRUG STORE CHANGES HANDS

Geo. Lockett & Co. Dispose of Their Interests Here to Hannaford Man.

An important business transfer was made this week, whereby Ole Almklov of Hannaford, becomes the owner of the Geo. Lockett & Co. drug store.

Mr. Almklov is an expert pharmacist and thorough business man. He also owns a store at Hannaford. He will give the interior a general cleaning-up and with the stock replenished will have a drug store as good as any in the county. He will divide his attention between here and Hannaford, his man at the latter place, who is a first-class druggist, alternating with him.

The retiring firm are pleasant and obliging business men and Binford people are sorry to lose them but interests elsewhere requires their undivided attention. Since the departure of Mr. Lockett the affairs at the drug store were allowed to get slack by the man in charge, so Mr. Lockett deemed it best for all concerned that a complete transfer be made to a reliable party.
