

The West Hotel opened up yesterday under the new management of Harman & Cariff. They expect to run a first-class hotel and invite the public to give them a trial and judge for themselves. This town ought to support two hotels if run right, and we hope the new management will be successful and make some money out of it.