

THREE LINKERS WILL ENTERTAIN

Odd Fellows Will be Hosts at a Social and Ball Next Monday Evening.

Neatly printed invitations—a production of the Times, of course—are being sent out by the local order of the I. O. O. F. lodge, for a social and dance to be given next Monday evening at the opera house, and it is a foregone conclusion that all who are fortunate enough to receive bids will participate in one of the swellest functions ever held in Binford.

The Odd Fellows—and there's a bunch of them here—are a good lot of entertainers and they are sparing no time or expense in making this an affair that will eclipse all past efforts.

The main opera house has been reserved for dancing, while the up-stairs rooms have been set aside for card playing. Tho' the writer is not a member of the order and has no voice in the matter, it is a safe bet that a corner will be reserved for the ladies—and the men folks will be only too willing to grant them that privilege.

The committee on invitations are Oscar Greenland, Dr. J. R. Truscott and Chas. J. Patterson. The committee on arrangements are W. E. West, F. G. Lewis and M. Norswing.

The "R. S. V. P." on the invitation simply means "respond if you please"—let the committee know if you're coming so a plate can be reserved for you. Supper will be served at the Maurer hotel and you all know what that means. $2.00 will pass you for supper and dance.
