

is feeling rue over the experience.

Martin Wold discovered a broken rail Tuesday morning while walking between Mose and Binford. He apprised Agent West of his discovery, who wired to McHenry just in time to head off the freight train, that was about to start from that point. The McHenry section crew went out and put in a new rail.