

An empty freight car that was being switched on the siding, jumped the track near the Olson elevator last Monday. The car hit a hard bank of snow, knocking off the front trucks. It was put back with little difficulty.