

The N. P. now dispatches trains by telephone instead of by telegraph, as formerly. It is probably only a matter of time until every depot will have the "hello" girl and train crews will have to carry a supply of bons bons instead of the old-fashioned cuss words if they want to get anywhere.