

Our board of education is up against a bitter disappointment as a result of not having a teacher to begin the full term of school. Miss Calaban had been engaged for the coming term and was to have entered upon her duties Monday morning of this week. but on Friday last, word was received from her to the effect that it would be impos-