

Carrie Carlton has recovered from her attack of diphtheria, and the quarantine has been raised from the West hotel. Carrie, however, is unfortunate to a considerable extent, for no sooner had she gotten over the diphtheria than she was taken sick with measles, and she is now quartered in another building and taking treatment for that disease. It is hoped that she will soon recover, and that this will be her last illness for this time at least. She has had a hard time of it and her friends will be glad to see her around again.
