

Oscar Greenland went out with the new auto last Sunday and got out about three milcs. He came back after a while, but he must have forgotten something for he walked back to town. Later in the day he went out in company with someone else and the auto came in with them. Don't know how Oscar likes to go out riding when he has to hoof it back, but he will doubtless get accustomed to it after while, then it will be all right.