

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Greenland has been under quarantine during the past week on account of their children having a light attack of smallpox. As one child improves another takes up the case, and if the three children are affected in this manner, the other members of the family will have a long seige of it.