

Ingvald Nymoen, who has held down the job of second man at the farmers' elevator has severed his connection with that company, and is expecting to go to Canada, where he has been offered an opening in a large elevator.