

A. H. Overby returned Tuesday from his visit in Minnesota. Mrs. Overby, who joined him in December, returned some time ago. Andrew did not have anything further done for his injured hand, for the doctors told him that nothing more could be done except to amputate it higher up, and then there would be no improvement whatever over its present condition.