

Emil F. Ringlee was obliged to close his school in the Vangen district a few days this week on account of some boils on the back of his neck. The pets have diminished in size, however, and he is now back at work.