

Mrs. J. R. Truscott returned home last Friday from St. Paul, after a pleasant fortnight's visit with relatives. There is an epidemic of infant paralysis in the cities and Mrs. Truscott thought it best to cut her visit short, so her children would not be exposed.