

Albert Alfson returned yesterday from the hospital at Fargo, where he was operated on for appendicitis. Aside from being a little weak, he is feeling better than he has for several years.