

Adolph Aslakson and his brother, Albert, arrived here Monday, from Camrose, Canada, for a visit with relatives and many friends. They both swear by the Canadian country, but who wouldn't, if the same success that they have met with would fall to the lot of others.