

into the ditch.

A 500-gallon underground gasoline tank is being installed by Hammer-Thingelstad Co. It will be placed near the store and a spout run into the building to connect with a pump from which a hose will be attached, so automobiles can get their gasoline by driving up in front of the store. This new departure will be appreciated by the owners of buzz wagons who do not care to fill their tanks with the gallon measure.

E. M. Jackson received notice last