

Ed. Johnson and L. C. Swenson of Hope, arrived here last week and are fitting up the building west of the Nelson blacksmith shop and will open an automobile repair shop. Both of them have the appearance of gentlemen, and are said to be experts in their line. They will be ready for business as soon as their tools arrive from Minneapolis. This is a valuable acquisition to the business enterprises of Binford and should be given all the support possible. It will be only a question of a short time when this country will be run over with automobiles, and an enterprise of this kind will tend to bring more business to Binford, which has heretofore gone to other towns. A little of the right spirit shown now will keep the boys here, and will help a whole lot towards making a bigger and better Binford.
