The Commercial Club held its first annual meeting at the First State Bank last evening, and the following officers and committees were elected and appointed: President, L. P. Larson; vice president, Otto Pritz; secretary, O. G. Arneson; treasurer, Peter P. Idsvoog. Executive committee—Ole Bakken, Oscar Greenland, J. C. Thingelstad. Road committee—F. G. Lewis, A. Evers, J. R. Truscott. Electric Light committee—Oscar Greenland, Ole Bakken, J. C. Thingelstad. Membership committee—C. E. Peterson, Otto Pritz, J. C. Thingelstad. The committee on the electric light proposition presented a list showing the sentiment in favor of an electric lighting system. A large majority of those who were approached with the list signed readily, but no definite action was taken at this meeting toward the establishment of a plant. The committee will continue their work of canvassing the village more thoroughly, to ascertain if the people will wire their residences in case a plant is installed, and more information will be secured as to cost and workings of the systems in other villages. It is pretty big undertaking and the Commercial club is pursuing the right course in proceeding in a slow and careful manner. Electric lights are bound to come, and when it does we believe it will have the support of every taxpayer in the village.
