

The state law relating to weeds along the country roads is not being enforced very rapidly. Rural Mail Carrier Heinson informs us that in some places the weeds are so high that they obstruct the mail boxes. These weeds ought to be cut before the snow begins to fly or traffic along the roads will be blocked and a lot of shoveling will have to be done to open them again.

Oscar Greenland and family