

School closed last Friday for the three months vacation period. Many of the townspeople were present at the commencement exercises. Those who received their diplomas are Olaf Knapp, Olga Dahlin and Harold Swenson. The outcome of our school this year has made a splendid showing, and the outlook glows with prospects of unusual brightness. Now what is wanted is a following up. To some vacation means a relaxation from all effort in the line of school work, but it will never do to let the enthusiasm die down and expect to resurrect it three or four weeks before the time arrives to dust out and air the rooms for occupancy again.
