School Notes.

Monthly examinations were held in all grades on Thursday and Friday.

We are heartily grateful to the weather man for the past few days. We can work and play better.

Harold Swenson was absent from the high school on Monday.

Mrs. J. B. Truscott and son Donald, called on the primary room Monday afternoon.

Visitors are always welcome. We will be glad to receive parents and interested friends at any time.

The third grade are studying the poem entitled, "October's Bright Blue Weather," by Helen Hunt Jackson.

Olga Dahlin, Annie Hegland, Harold Swenson and Olaf Knapp are taking high school work this year.

The Physical Geography class are studying "rocks" this week. They are making an interesting collection of specimens.

The kindness of the pupils and parents in sending plants to the school is greatly appreciated. Though somewhat over-fumigated, they are beginning to survive.

There is not a germ in the Binford school. The building was thoroughly fumigated on Friday evening. In fact, the odor was so strong on Monday, that it was necessary to dismiss school for a part of the session, lest the fumes might have a deleterious effect upon our breathing organs. Hurrah! for the man who discovered microbes.

Miss Blanche Greenland was a visitor on Tuesday afternoon.

"Clarinet" time comes every Friday. Harold Wilson, Julia Alm, Inez Greenland and Olaf Swenson of the intermediate grades have been on the "Good Housekeeper" list for four weeks.

Olga and Dina Swenson were absent from Miss Lowe's room on Tuesday.

The eighth grade are memorizing "The American Flag," by Drake.

The primary pupils are taking work in manual training.
