

Local tennis enthusiasts have fixed up a court on the vacant lots north of the opera house, and are putting in their spare moments playing the game. There are some good tennis players here and when others are drilled up on the fine points it is likely that they will challenge a team from some other town.