

ELECTION WILL BE HELD THIS MONTH

It is Expected That All Present
Trustees Will be Candidates for Re-election.

As will be noticed elsewhere in the Times this week, the annual village election will be held on Tuesday, March 21. There has been comparatively little election talk as yet, though the day is not far distant.

It is expected that all of the present trustees will be candidates for re-election, and no opposition has been suggested as yet. The council has been working together with harmony, and if they see fit to be candidates again, it is hardly probable there will be any changes.

So far as the Times is able to find out, there will be no opposition for any of the other offices either. Assessor Alfson will decline to serve any longer, so it will be necessary to look around for someone to fill his place. It is likely that the one who goes after this job, will find no opposition.
