

Andrew Bolken, who was formerly employed in the meat market in this village, is again in our midst. He returned last Saturday and will spend some time visiting here.