

Letters from the Buchheits have been received here this week, which state they have reached New York. They will spend a few days there and then go to the old home in Indiana for a visit, when they will continue on their way homeward, expecting to arrive here in two or three weeks.