

DISTRICT COURT GRIND IS OVER

Session Was a Short One—Only
Four Cases Were Heard—
One Criminal.

The regular spring term of the district court was held at Cooperstown last week, Judge Coffey presiding.

The following were made citizens of the United States: Manuel Vagle, Fredrik Hareland, Christ Haugen, Olaf Johnson, Enoch Mohn, A. M. Hewson, John Boyer.

Martin Nelson, of Binford, pleaded guilty in the case brought against him by the state and he was sentenced to pay $400 toward the support of his child. He will remain in the county jail for 90 days unless he can furnish security for the payment of $400.

The case that took up the most time and created general interest was that of John H. Mulroy vs. Geo. J. Jacobson. Mulroy sued to recover the amount and interest on certain notes he had given Jacobson in payment of the premium on an insurance policy. Mulroy alleged that he did not get the kind of policy he had bargained for, hence he sued to recover the payment made. The jury after being out five hours, returned a verdict in favor of Mulroy and awarded him $4500.

Ludvig Amundson, of Binford, brought a suit against P. J. Finstuen to enforce payment of a bill of $25 for repairs on a threshing rig. The judge took the case out of the hands of the jury and gave a verdict in favor of Amundson.

A. J. Smith, of Cooperstown, brought an action against Erwin Erickson to enforce the payment of some money due on a threshing rig. The jury decided that Erickson should pay $133. This was the last case on the calendar.
