

in numbers.

Rev. F. W. Hortsman and family may decide to leave Binford in the near future. The reverend gentleman has received three excellent calls of late, and it is more than probable that he will accept one of them. Two of the calls are from Missouri and the other from South Dakota. The call from Springfield, Missouri, appeals to him more than the others. Springfield is a city of 50,000 and a pleasant place to live. Mr. Hortsman has not taken up the matter with his congregations north and south of Binford, but will do that at the meeting in the church south of town next Sunday, and at a later date with his congregation north of town. Mr. Hortsman and his estimable wife have made many friends in and out of his congregations who will be sorry to see them leave.
