

it to this office.

Lewis Kaasa arrived here last Friday from Northwood, and is now employed in the Times office, learning the art preservative. Judging from his first week's work he will make a very efficient assistant to the editor.