

what he did the evening of Jan. 16, and he told them. They interrupted him and called him a liar. Later in the evening Skulason said to him:

"Now, Clyde, you didn't mean to hurt Kenneth?"

Sperry said he replied, "Certainly not."

The witness said that then they all told him he had better tell it all since he had said that much. He declared that the confession was made in answers to questions propounded by State's Attorney Skulason and that it was all a "lot of lies." He said that they told him that this was his last chance and if he didn't turn state's evidence, Summerfield would get the chance. Frightened by this, he told the story. They also agreed that he was not to tell any one. Afterwards he told his father the whole story and his father told him to tell the truth. The defendant was vigorously cross-examined by State's Attorney Skulason but did not waver.

The case was submitted by the state without argument. Counsel for the defense arguing briefly.

Why He Advertises.

A prominent business man of Michigan explains why he advertises and why he uses newspapers for that purpose, as follows:

"I advertise in the newspaper because I am not ashamed of my goods or my work, and to let the people know about myself, my store and my stock; because I cater to the intelligent class and they read the papers, and believe in increasing my business because I can talk to more people through the newspaper at a greater distance in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way; because my newspaper advertising has brought me greater returns for the least expenditure, of any advertising I have done; because when I write an ad I am not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible medium or to have it inserted so it is attractive; because I know my ad is seen and read by everyone in the house where the paper goes."
