

don his work on account of it.

A. J. Melgard and wife were in from Sutton Sunday for a visit. Sutton is building up rapidly, and the buildings are all substantial ones. The Citizens State bank, of which Mr. Melgard is cashier, is practical-completed. It is a handsome, brick structure, occupying a corner lot. The fixtures are of heavy material and are modern in every respect. That institution will soon take its place among the leading banking institutions in the county.

Some of our farmers are solving