

train.

Ole Olsgard moved into his new house on the farm last week. Ole has one of the finest homes around this country now, and he will make it better still next summer when he will plant some trees.